Complete a Project for TNSTEP

Join the grad students, businessmen and woman, college and high school students, and parents have used their expertise and to help TNSTEP expand our reach to families!

Here are a few examples:

- Grad students from University of Memphis designed our TNSTEP logo and tagline.
- Videographer gave reduced rates to produce our IEP videos.
- College student met a course requirement to write a grant; TNSTEP provided data, and the student (who received stellar marks) gave the grant to TNSTEP to submit for funding.
- High school student enlisted his class to laminate over 120 Dream Building kits for use in our Transition Institutes.
- Local CPA donated time to assist TNSTEP with creating documents to provide detailed financial reports for the Board.
- Bilingual father donates hours every month to translate TNSTEP materials into Spanish.
- Grad student for Vanderbilt University created a packet on Scientific and Research-Based Practices to add to our lending library.
- Currently, a college intern study group is creating an interactive online training module on Least Restrictive Environment and Inclusion for posting on the TNSTEP website.
