Assessment Area: PL-Oral Expression EXCEPTIONAL? Yes Present Level of Performance: Susan has made wonderful progress in her oral expression skills both verbally and utilizing her communication device. She is able to express basic wants and needs such as choosing a preferred item or activity, requesting a bathroom break or making preferred food choices at lunch. She has difficulty expressing herself when she becomes upset or overwhelmed. Impact of Mastery of Standards: The deficits in Oral Expression make it difficult for her to express herself especially when upset or overwhelmed. This impacts her ability to master grade level standards and requires the implementation of Specifically Designed Instruction. Source of Information: Gray Oral Reading Test-Fifth Edition (GORT-5), SubTest: General Adaptive Composite Date Administered: 02/26/2020
Assessment Area: PL-Pre-vocational EXCEPTIONAL? Yes Present Level of Performance: Susan shows the ability to follow up to 2 step instructions and has the ability to work uninterrupted for up to 5 minutes. She has difficulty completing tasks that require more than two steps and requires consistent positive reinforcement and redirection for any task requiring her attention for more than 5 minutes. Impact of Mastery of Standards: Susan's difficulty following multi-step instructions and staying on task impact her ability to master grade level content and require the implementation of Specifically Designed Instruction. Source of Information: Adaptive – Adaptive Behavior Assessment System-Second Edition (ABAS-II) Parent SubTest: General Adaptive Composite Date Administered: 03/22/2020

Present Levels of Performance Levels of functioning should include norm referenced and/or criterion referenced data, as well as descriptive information of the Student's deficit areas.
Assessment Area: PL-Behavior EXCEPTIONAL? Yes Present Level of Performance: Susan has made great strides in her behavior this year. She is not showing any aggression towards teachers or peers and has increased her time on task from two minutes to 5 minutes utilizing the positive behavior support plan. Susan continues to have difficulty staying on task and will exhibit non-compliant behaviors when presented with a task that she perceives as too difficult. She will also exhibit this behavior if a non-preferred task requires her attention beyond 5 minutes. Her non-compliant behaviors include pushing away or destroying the assignment, raising her voice and yelling, NO, or putting her head down and refusing to complete a task. Impact of Mastery of Standards: Susan's behavior to avoid work impacts her ability to master grade level content and requires the implementation of behavior supports. Source of Information: Observation - Classroom SubTest: General Classroom expectations Date Administered: 03/22/2020
Assessment Area: PL-Academics-Math Calculation EXCEPTIONAL? No Present Level of Performance: Susan often shares that she does not like reading and writing, but likes math, especially computerized math games. Review of her EASYCBM progress monitoring, work samples and teacher observation reveals strengths in place value understanding, counting, comparing numbers, and measurement concepts of money, time and temperature, and geometry. Impact of Mastery of Standards: She has mastered most addition and subtraction as well as multiplication facts. Susan's teachers report that she has a good grasp of computation when working with whole numbers and with computation involving fractions and decimals. Source of Information: EASYCBM SubTest: Math Date Administered: 04/10/2020 Std.
